

Blake Lee-Harwood - Blake Lee-Harwood, BSc, MSc, is a UK citizen who has been engaged with environmental issues for more than 25 years. He has worked with environmental NGOs on natural resource issues as well as with the UK Government on climate change and development. Blake has also worked with industry for several years as a consultant on sustainability and communications. In the past five years

Blake has worked with the Sustainable Fisheries Partnership (SFP) as the Communications & Strategy Director and has overseen the organisation's work programme on sustainable aquaculture feed. He initiated the creation of annual reports on the sustainable management of fisheries used to supply fishmeal to the aqua feed industry. He has also played a leading role in SFP's work to develop improvement projects in fishmeal fisheries in South East Asia and is the SFP contact person for all matters relating to aquaculture certification and feed standards. Blake has a long-standing commitment to help create sustainable fisheries and aquaculture and continues to dedicate a significant portion of his working life to issues around feed and the management of fishmeal fisheries.