

Eduardo Goycoolea - Eduardo is a Chilean citizen and holds an Industrial Engineering degree from the Universidad Católica de Chile (Catholic University of Chile). He has vast experience in High Management positions, both in local and multinational companies, including four years as an expatriate executive at Exxon's Latin American Headquarters in the United States. Eduardo is also an experienced Board Member/Director at various organizations and companies. Currently he is the Sales and Marketing Director of Blumar Seafoods. This is a fishing and farming company with presence in all relevant markets worldwide, with annual sales for approx. US$ 400 million and 1,500 employees. It is one of the three largest fishing and farming companies in Chile. Eduardo is currently also a member of the following International Boards:

- GROUND FISH FORUM, which is an International Organization registered in Canada which assembles the most important Marketing, Producers and fishing companies worldwide regarding human consumption of Seafood products.
- IFFO, which is an International organization that assemble world Fishmeal and Fishoil producers, traders and buyers. Eduardo was a founder of IFFO and first President.